

THE HOTEL AND THE STORY

Opening in late summer 2024, Villa Dahlia's name originates from the beautiful flower garden surrounding what used to be one of the hotelier family, Malmström, homes in Båstad, Villa Dagmar. The villa was then much like today, decorated with fresh dahlias, known as the late summer's floral splendor.

"The delightful scents of the flower garden lingered in the late summers, making dahlias a symbol of family, love and beautiful moments to remember. Therefore, it became the natural choice of name for our third hotel."

– Anna Cappelen, Partner and Head of Design and Product Diplomat Collection.

An extensive art collection adorned the villa, including works by old Flemish and Italian masters, as well as 18th- and 19th-century French furniture and sculptures, showcasing the family's interest in genuine craftsmanship. Arts and craftsmanship are a symbol of Villa Dahlia and for the family, a testament to their commitment to preserving the beauty and tradition of their lineage. At Villa Dahlia, guests will not just find a place to rest their heads but a sanctuary of curated beauty – a haven where the stories of the past intertwine with the promise of the future.

"We have worked closely with Kristian Ström, Site Manager at Arcona, and Simon Caudéran, Per Öberg Architect, to realize our vision of a hotel and our own product. We are extremely proud of the result,"

– Sune M. Malmström, Director Business Development and Partner at Diplomat Collection.

Villa Dahlia is a familial home permeated with sustainability and genuine craftsmanship, where the interior ages with grace. The distinction lies within the details, where elements of daring dahlia red, Swedish tapestries and traditional Italian murals create a curated home at its most sublime.

"We admire the Italians' way of integrating the old with the new. The post-war architecture blends so beautifully with the old, and the romance still remains. Villa Dahlia was built in the 1960s yet the new exterior goes beautifully with the turn of a century buildings of its surroundings, just like in Milan. And in contrast to its exterior, when entering the hotel, you are met by a completely different and unexpected world."

– Pauline Cappelen, Hotel Manager Villa Dahlia and Creative Manager The Diplomat Collection

THE HOTEL OWNERS - THE HISTORY OF THE MALMSTRÖM FAMILY

1882 - The first houses are completed on Strandvägen in Stockholm. Around 1860, Strandvägen did not exist, the area was a swampy beach with unhygienic slums.

1900 - At the turn of the century, young Oscar II expressed a wish that Stockholm would have a parade street where the royal family could make its way to Djurgården to welcome spring, on the 1st of May. This is how Strandvägen came to be.

1904 - Around 1904, only Strandvägen 7 remained to be built on.

1911 - Strandvägen 7 was built in an Art Nouveau style and became the most magnificent building on Strandvägen. The building took the form of a "U" with the wings facing the street. The property was divided into 7A, 7B and 7C. The builder was A. Boström and the house was named the same. Boströmska Palatset was inaugurated in 1911 at Strandvägen 7 and is still today considered to be Strandvägen's most beautiful building.

1918 - Strandvägen 7C was acquired by Carl and Dagmar Bergsten (the current owner's great grandparents). The floors were light, airy and large, with two state rooms per floor of 350/550 square meters. The rent for a ten-room apartment at the time was 8,000-10,000 SEK per year, with a professional salary being at approximately 1,200 SEK per year.

1920 - The first floor is rented out as a hotel room under the name Strandvägspensionatet.

1930 - During the Depression, the large floors were emptied. But 7C managed to create interest in foreign embassies and in the 30s and 50s 7C was rented by Romanian, Chilean, Persian, Hungarian, Italian and Canadian embassies.

1960 - In 1960 it was decided to expand the hotel part and in 1962 the Romanian Embassy's premises were rebuilt into a 15 room hotel.

1966 - Great demand for hotel rooms made Sune Malmström Sr. decide to buy out his siblings and become the sole owner and rebuild the entire building into a modern hotel. Decor in blonde Swedish style was made by NK Design. In connection with this, the hotel was named Hotel Diplomat.

1970 - Sune Malmström Sr. bought properties and hotels in Åre. A few years later, a hotel was also bought in Linköping as well as the Swan Diplomat, located between Oxford and Cambridge, which was later sold.

2011 - The property, Strandvägen 7C, celebrated 100 years.

2014 - 2019 The owners sold the properties and the hotel in Åre.

2016 - The owners sign a new agreement with the City of Stockholm to run a new hotel on Nybrogatan 25-27 next to Östermalm's Market Hall. The property was built in 1870 and is a well-preserved Art Nouveau style building.

2021 - On May 6, Villa Dagmar opens the doors to a unique home, a city villa, on Nybrogatan 25-27.

2023 - The real estate company Glommen Lindberg (now Venum Fastigheter) purchased the property Barnhusväderkvarnen 2, which at the time was Hotel Tegnérkunden. With the acquisition, they took over the ongoing project from Probitas, with the ambition of creating a new hotel destination in Stockholm.

2023 - It was on short notice that Diplomat Collection was approached about the project, and the idea behind Villa Dahlia was conceived. At that time, the construction had already begun with another supplier.

2024 – On August 29th, Villa Dahlia - the third hotel in the family of Diplomat Collection boutique hotels opens its doors on Tegnérkunden 8.
